Sequence 5

Text structure and features of A visitor’s guide to ancient Rome

Tick the features you would expect to see in a standard information text:

Structure
- [ ] Contents and index
- [ ] Information organised by ‘activity’ (for example, sightseeing, shopping)
- [ ] Attention grabbing headings (for example, ‘Feasting fit to bust’)
- [ ] Attention grabbing sub-headings (for example, ‘From poshos to plebs’)
- [ ] ‘Top tips’ sections
- [ ] ‘How to’ guides
- [ ] Quotes
- [ ] Images and explanatory captions

Features – text
- [ ] Colloquial language
- [ ] Informal language
- [ ] Persuasive language
- [ ] Evaluative language
- [ ] Puns (for example ‘Hey, small spender’)
- [ ] First person verb form
- [ ] Second person verb form
- [ ] Idioms (for example, ‘waited on hand and foot’)
- [ ] Well-known sayings
- [ ] Technical vocabulary
- [ ] Contractions
- [ ] Exclamations

Features – images
- [ ] Cartoons
- [ ] Sketches
- [ ] Photographs
- [ ] Diagrams
- [ ] Maps
- [ ] Drawn cross-sections of buildings